

PRESS RELEASE

ASG, Division of Jergens, Inc. will be in attendance at NEPCON South China 2014 in Shenzhen, China.

Stop by and see ASG's booth at F-6c41. Our staff and senior management will be there to demonstrate and speak about our products.

CLEVELAND, Ohio – August 18, 2014 – The American manufacturer ASG is enthusiastic to be returning to the NEPCON South China Exhibition for the 6th consecutive year. At our booth, we will be showcasing new products from all three of ASG's product groups: Assembly, Industrial, and Precision Fastening. In attendance with our products will be ASG staff from our Cleveland and Shanghai headquarters as well as senior management such as Bryon Shafer, Division General Manager of ASG. These individuals will be there to demonstrate products, answer questions and talk with trade professionals who visit booth F-6c41. The NEPCON South China event is a perfect environment to network and win-win business relationships.

ASG's Commitment to the Chinese Industrial Market

With a recent opening of a headquarters in Shanghai, China, ASG has made a commitment to supporting the Chinese industrial market and creating relationships with distributors. This new headquarters is located in a new economic development in the Jinqiao District in PuDong, Shanghai, China, the 500-square meter facility contains offices, warehousing and a technical center. Even though this state-of-the-art building is brand new, Jergens Inc. and ASG, Division of Jergens, Inc. are not brand new to Shanghai. It has been eight years since the Jergens Shanghai Company Ltd. was founded to support the workholding, lifting and specialty fasteners industrial market in China. ASG began promoting its assembly tools shortly after.
